

Wardrobe Notes: Autumn casual dressing instantly feels more elevated when you consider colour, proportion and texture. For example, in this off-duty look, I've kept the foundation tonal with chocolate brown jeans and a fitted knit, creating a streamlined silhouette that feels understated yet considered. The lighter brown wrap coat adds contrast and softness and the minimal accessories makes the outfit more cohesive. It's a simple approach to everyday dressing, but the attention to colour and proportion makes the overall look feel more polished and intentional.

This colour palette is particularly flattering on warm, neutral-warm and olive complexions

N.Peal Coat

Wolford Bodysuit

Loulou de Saison Jeans

The Row Clutch

Le Monde Béryl Flats